The Agua Caliente Fuel Brand Is Growing

Agua Caliente Fuel planned for Cathedral City and Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, CALIF. – The Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians is pleased to announce Agua Caliente Fuel is planned for the Tribe’s property at the northeast corner of East Palm Canyon and Monty Hall Drive in Cathedral City and at the northeast corner of Lawrence Crossley Road and Dinah Shore Drive in Palm Springs.

The two new Agua Caliente Fuel locations are projected to open in Summer of 2026. The proposed Agua Caliente Fuel development in Cathedral City includes 24 fueling positions, 6 fueling lanes with extended queuing, and a 1,000-square-foot attendant building.

The proposed Agua Caliente Fuel development in Palm Springs sits on approximately 3.6 acres and includes a 9,500-square-foot convenience store with approximately 2,900 square feet of gaming space featuring approximately 90 gaming machines, plus a 625-square-foot fuel attendant building just steps from 24 fueling positions, and 12 level 3 EV charging stations with solar canopies over each space.

“We are pleased to offer convenient Agua Caliente Fuel locations in Cathedral City and Palm Springs, in addition to our existing location in Rancho Mirage,” Tribal Chairman Reid D. Milanovich said. “The construction of the new locations stimulates job creation and boosts our local construction economy.”

The Tribe’s existing Agua Caliente Fuel is located at 32-279 Bob Hope Drive in Rancho Mirage across from the Agua Caliente Casino Rancho Mirage. This existing Agua Caliente Fuel location offers 24 fueling positions and six EV charging stations, plus a convenience store featuring a walk-up and drive-through Java Caliente, a beer cave, a full-service market, and 750 square feet of gaming space with 43 gaming machines.

Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and into the Santa Rosa and San Jacinto mountains. For more information about the Tribe, visit: www.aguacaliente-nsn.gov.
